TRAVELER'S LIMBO

By: Jordan Stafford, RR Intern

"You can stay in a small hotel room in traveler's limbo only so long," wrote the A Family. "When Malaysia extended their COVID-19 border closure again, we knew we had to make a move."

The A's had intended a temporary pit-stop in a Thailand hotel, but when COVID-19 shut down airports and borders, they weren't even able to return home to Malaysia. They didn't speak Thai, but they had to extend their stay in the cramped hotel for 70 days! Finally, after 84 hours of travel (with multiple 20+ hour layovers), they arrived back home in the US where our Louisiana Hub welcomed them with a clean minivan and a fun goodie bag.

COVID-19 has made international travel difficult for missionaries like the A family, but we have confident hope in Jesus to care for our brothers and sisters in Christ. As we navigate a new world, we take heart that we serve a God bigger than any border closure, layover, or disease.

A clean, reliable minivan to greet the travel-weary missionaries.

Goodie bags refresh weary travelers with good old American snacks and toiletries.

Volunteers stock the goodie bag pantry and make up bags tailored for each missionary family. Contact us to see if you can support the pantry.
